The new year has brought in hopes and zeal to face the challenges that lie ahead. For this, the organizing committee under the leadership of Dr. Waqar Ahmad as President has already lined up the Pakistan society of Nephrology meeting on 1-3 March. We are very excited about the PSN conference since a significant number of speakers around the globe will participate and enlighten us on the newer developments. The whole program is laid out to improve our deficiencies and obtain guidance from the experts in the field of Nephrology. Research will be an important topic and collaborations among different centers is expected.

Continuous efforts on part of the PSN and individual centers to further knowledge of Nephrology and identify the factors resulting in devastating outcomes such as end stage renal disease among our population. It is not wrong to say that every geographical area may have certain factors compounding the effects of a certain disease, maybe genetics or otherwise. It is our duty to search for clues to improve the health status of our populace.
